

FORMER CONVICT SHOT BY OFFICER

Richard Redd Wounded by Captain Wright While Resisting Arrest.

Richard Redd, the negro who was shot by Captain Wright, of the Third Police District, after a prolonged struggle yesterday morning at Seventh and Hull Streets, broke down in his cell in the afternoon and confessed to a long list of felonies committed in Richmond and neighboring counties. His wound, in the lower right leg, is not serious. More arrests will follow Redd's confession, and it is believed three members at least of a gang of jail birds will be put behind the bars as a result of Redd's statements.

There are two warrants at police headquarters for Redd, one for stealing clothes and the other for attempting the life of William Minnis (colored), but until yesterday, all efforts to locate him had been futile. He bears the worst kind of reputation, having served twenty-one years in the State Penitentiary, eight years for stealing and thirteen for shooting a man. He had not been in the South for ten minutes yesterday before Captain Wright heard of his arrival, and set out to capture him. He is a strapping negro, over six feet in height and weighing about 190 pounds, and when Captain Wright put him under arrest on Seventh Street he immediately showed fight.

Clash Lost in Battle.
In the scuffle that followed, the captain's club was lost. Finding the negro too powerful to be overcome single handed, and seeing him about to get out of reach, the officer drew his pistol and shot. Even after Redd was wounded he continued to fight and was only subdued when Patrolman Manning and a civilian arrived on the scene. In the station house Redd said he fought because he knew capture meant a life term in the penitentiary.

Although unknown at the time of his arrest, the police later found that Redd had barely escaped a lynching near Keysville two years ago. He had been arrested for stealing two mules, and hearing of trouble, he overpowered the deputy sheriff who arrested him and beat the latter badly with his own gun. Fearing to go back to the people and be tried for the mule stealing and his attack on the sheriff, Redd yesterday made a detailed confession of crimes that will serve to land him on the "hill" for the rest of his life. He was to be taken back to Charlotte and pleaded with Captain Wright to have him tried there.

In addition to confessing to a number of petty larcenies, which he said, "wasn't nothing," he told of the theft of a horse and buggy from the Old Market just before Easter. In this crime he implicated his brother, who is now serving a twelve months' term in the City Jail for attempting the life of William Minnis. He readily gave the police the names of the negroes associated with him in his career of crime, and these will be rounded up.

All the other negroes implicated in Redd's confession are known to the police, and he will have a preliminary hearing this morning in the Police Court, Part 2.

CONDITIONS NORMAL AGAIN IN DANVILLE

Money Loss Caused by Sunday's Storm May Reach $200,000--Street Car Service Restored, but Lights Still Out in Many Sections.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Danville, Va., June 19.—After the rather terrifying experience of Sunday afternoon, when this city was swept by a cyclone, the citizens are settling themselves down, and things are moving along as though nothing has happened. The money loss is conservatively estimated at from $150,000 to about $200,000, divided among hundreds of firms and individuals.

The loss of stately old trees, when hundreds were mutilated on the principal residence streets, can never be replaced. The streets, which were littered with debris when morning dawned, had been almost cleared of the litter in the early afternoon today, and street car service was resumed on regular schedule all over the city. The upper portion of the city is in darkness to-night, and hundreds of phones are still out of commission.

Many persons saw the awful storm approaching, and the terrible funnel-shaped cyclone cloud, as it darted back and forth, leaving its terrible trail as it swept over the city. An automobile standing on one of the streets was blown up the street a considerable distance, though fortunately was not damaged. It became known during the day that several residences were struck and the occupants in several cases rendered unconscious.

Cleaning Up City.
The business section of the city, where the storm was at its height, is rapidly undergoing changes. Large forces are busily engaged in removing the roofs, which lie around in great numbers, erecting fallen poles, stringing wires, and replacing plate glass windows which were smashed. It will be several days before all the damage to residences becomes known. At the baseball park the end of one of the Danville Fair Association's buildings was blown out, the score board at the ball park blown down, signs were overturned and wrecked. Eighteen or twenty panels of fence were blown down at the baseball park. The storage factory of the Farmers' Union on Crishead Street, was partially unroofed, as was the Banner Warehouse, and almost all buildings in that locality suffered some damage.

WILL NOT PROMISE TO BUILD NEW LINE

President Johnson, of Norfolk and Western, Hears Arguments by Citizens.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Roanoke, Va., June 19.—This afternoon President L. E. Johnson, of the Norfolk and Western Railway, received a delegation from Newmarket, Craig county, Salem and Roanoke counties, for a proposed extension of the Catawba Valley Railroad from Mason's Cove, in Roanoke county, to Newmarket, the county seat of Craig, resulting in President Johnson's refusal to give any encouragement to the undertaking.

Mr. Johnson said the proposition would not be a paying one because of tunneling and other heavy work. Addresses were made on behalf of the plan by a number of men, including Judge James W. Marshall ("Cyclone Jim"). The speakers were introduced by President Michael, of the Roanoke Chamber of Commerce. Among them, Dr. Emory Williams, State health officer, advocated the extension. The State sanatorium for tuberculosis at Catawba is located on the line of the proposed extension. The delegation was greatly disappointed because of the result of the conference.

HELD ON OLD WARRANT

Peabody Police Catch Two Negroes Being Held on Old Warrant.
Detective Sergeant Kellam last night brought back two colored prisoners from Peabody, where both men had been arrested by Peabody detectives on warrants dating from 1910.

Jim Taylor, one of the prisoners, is charged with shooting at Sallie Anderson, with intent to kill, a disabled woman, who is against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth, the United States and the peace in general.

Ramon Green is believed to be the negro who broke into the home of a friend and stole, also against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth, etc., and was charged with being a vagrant.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY AGAINST COAL LAND COMPANY

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Big Stone Gap, Va., June 19.—Information has been received here that J. P. Royall, A. Higginbotham, and Harmon & Pabst, attorneys of Fawcett, who have been collecting about $6,000 in claims against the Coal Land Corporation, which is now in the hands of a receiver, have filed a petition in bankruptcy against the company.

This action comes as a surprise to those familiar with the affairs of the company, inasmuch as it was recently disclosed by the boardholders' committee, which had in hand certain reorganization plans for the corporation, that the committee representing unsecured creditors had agreed to take no steps in bankruptcy until after the affairs of the company had been thoroughly investigated.

TELLS WHAT THEY NEED AT CITY HOME HOSPITAL

The subcommittee appointed recently for the purpose of making a report to the City Home hospital reported to the Committee on Relief of the Poor last night what they felt was needed in the amount of more than $1,000. An appropriation of $1,000 will be asked at the next meeting of the Committee on Finance to cover the expenditures which are said to be necessary. The question of distribution of food to the poor was deferred to the next meeting, when a conference will be had with Dr. James Buchanan, of the Associated Charities in the effort to devise some better plan.

Miss E. W. Lomas, who has passed satisfactorily her term of probation, was elected assistant head nurse.

Gas Store Explodes.
A gas store exploding in the house at 2102 East Broad Street at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon set fire to the surrounding woodwork, but only nominal damage was inflicted, the firemen arriving in time to prevent a serious outbreak.

Minors Got Whisker.
Charles Holt, a white man, was arrested last night on a charge of giving whiskey to Charles Faircloth and Leslie Peay, both minors. One of the boys was seriously affected for a time by the whiskey he drank.

David Riley, colored, was arrested on suspicion of running a pollax show.

A little excursion and a little holiday, sandwiched in with a lot of booze, proved the downfall of Stanley Thomas, a charcoal-skinned negro, yesterday afternoon, when he plumped himself down next to a white woman on an open street car and refused to move back to the section reserved for the blacks. The conductor put him under arrest on the spot, and he moved later—in the direction of the station house. He was highly repentant after being stored in the "cooler," but the police figured his repentance came too late.

Stanley is a Norfolk negro, and came here yesterday on the Norfolk-Richmond excursion. His pressing engagement with Captain Wright last night prevented him from catching the excursion train back home. He loved her in hard luck yesterday—miles from a friend, too broke to pay his fare on railroad fare home, and sure to lose his job when he does show up in his native haunts. He will grace the Police Court, Part II, this morning.

Accident at Funeral.

The assistance of the surgeon of the city ambulance was required Sunday afternoon to restore C. C. Burgess, colored, to consciousness. Burgess was a very large part of a funeral procession Sunday, but when the procession reached Twenty-second and Hull Streets, he fell off the back of the hearse. Burgess dropped out literally. As he was peering out the carriage door toward the head of the procession his foot—or something—slipped and he dropped under the wheels of the hack he had been riding in. No serious damage was done, although the funeral procession and the mourners were furnished some excitement.

Get in New Home July 1.

After a visit of inspection yesterday to the new engine house for Engine Company No. 13, Fire Chief J. J. Jones told Captain Cosby that the move would take place on July 1, whether the new building was ready or not. The building is practically complete now, and the men are so cramped in their present quarters that Chief Jones is very anxious to shift them to the new house as soon as possible.

The new engine will be in commission by that date, and will be in active service as soon as the company moves to Tenth and Bainbridge Streets. The chief also stated yesterday that he hoped to have the new truck in the Southside before autumn, which is exactly what everybody on this side of the river has been desiring strongly since the burning of the Zion Baptist Church.

Innumerable delays have occurred in the building of this house and the members of Company No. 13 have been put off time and time again just when it seemed most probable that the move would be surely effected. The three men who have been detailed to the South Richmond company, but who are stationed at present in other houses, will join this company on July 1.

Death of Child.

The funeral of Sarah Louise Garber, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Garber, of 708 Maury Street, who died yesterday morning early, was conducted yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Rev. G. T. Forrester from the house. The interment was made in Maury Cemetery.

Fresh Air Camp Opened.

Although the dripping rains prevented a real open-air celebration, the opening of the Chesterfield Fresh Air Camp was accomplished yesterday afternoon under most auspicious circumstances. A number of prominent Richmonders were present and undertook a tour of the camp and grounds. The actual opening was in charge of Rev. F. T. McFadden, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Richmond, assisted by Adjutant Wiggins, addresses were delivered by each, and the objects and aims of the camp outlined for the benefit of the visitors.

Following the speeches, the board of directors and visitors made a tour of inspection and were afterward entertained by Mrs. F. W. Danner at a reception.

The camp was made possible through the generosity of Mrs. Danner, who donated the ground and aided materially in other ways. The management of the institution is to be practically in the hands of the local Salvation Army, who will pick the children to be taken out to Chesterfield in relays all through the summer to get a breath of pure country air.

Pastor Attends Conference.

In the absence of Rev. J. W. Durham, pastor of the Bainbridge Street Baptist Church, who departed yesterday for Philadelphia, where he will attend the sessions of the World's Baptist Conference, the pulpit will be filled by visiting ministers.

Adjutant Wiggins, of the Salvation Army, will speak in this church next Sunday morning, when he will give a short history of his organization and recount some of the benefits from its ministrations.

After leaving Philadelphia, Mr. Durham will go to New York and Camden, returning home at the end of a month.

Burial of Mr. Bass.

The funeral of I. L. Bass, of 129 East Eighteenth Street, who died suddenly Sunday night in the yard of his home, will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The services will be at the side of the grave in Maury Cemetery.

Mr. Bass, who was an aged man, was a well-known contractor in South Richmond. He leaves two sons, I. W.

Police Court Cases.

After his little frolic in the wilds of Chesterfield, Justice Maurice, of the Police Court, Part 2, was confronted with a man-sized docket yesterday morning. None of the offenses was of a serious nature.

John V. Baughan and H. S. Saunders, both white, charged with fighting in the saloon of J. F. Baughan, at 1513 Hull Street, were fined $250 and costs each.

Joseph Rattle, white, forty years old, charged with being drunk and down, was treated to a fine of $5 and costs. This did not seem to suit him, so the justice changed it to $10 and costs.

George Young, colored, was fined $5 and costs for being drunk and disorderly on the streets.

Alonzo Winfree, colored, was fined $250 and costs for being drunk and breaking a window in the residence of M. J. Johnson.

Arnold Green and Annie Mongo, both colored, were dismissed on a misdemeanor charge.

Thomas Nicholas, white, was summoned to court for the violation of a city ordinance.

John Ford, white, charged with a misdemeanor, was fined $5 and costs. Personal and General.

George DuVal, of Middleton, O., a brother of Walter DuVal, clerk of the Hastings Court, Part 2, is visiting relatives in the Southside.

Postmaster Thomas Smith, of the Manchester post-office, has just been authorized to have the new post-office building fitted with screens. In addition letter slots are to be built in both entrances to the building.

The famous three-legged canine, who recently had a taste of the immutability of the law, was freed yesterday through the efforts of a trio of South Richmond boys who started a popular subscription, which meted the $1.25 that was needed to set curiously at liberty. "Binko" will be seen sporting himself on the streets of South Richmond as usual now, but with the addition of a nice new 1911 dog medal.

S.S.S. CURES RHEUMATISM

The usual cause of Rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood which weakens and acidifies this vital fluid, and prevents the proper amount of nourishment being afforded the muscles, nerves and tendons. The pains and aches of Rheumatism may be temporarily relieved by the use of liniments, hot applications, and other external treatments, but the disease cannot be permanently benefited by such measures and is bound to become chronic and dangerous if such things are depended upon alone. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation. When S. S. S. has cleansed and purified the blood the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, and every symptom of Rheumatism passes away. Book on Rheumatism and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.
